J. D. CUSHING,
Editor N. C. Deaf Mute Journal.

WILLIAM D. CRUSE,
Principal N. C. Institute for D. & D. M.

Raleigh, N. C., ——

Messrs. ——: We are glad to learn that all of your pupils are not deaf and dumb, as the name of your school would indicate. We are glad to learn that you have one pupil who is not afflicted with the devil. The fact that you have one pupil who is not afflicted with the devil, is a matter of congratulation to you, and to the friends of the pupil.

"Finley Hunter and Ed Wyatt, the boys and pet, are now in the enjoyment of the most perfect health. The former is now at home, and the latter at school. Both are very much improved in their general appearance since they left the Institution. Finley is a fine boy, and we are glad to learn that he is improving in his studies. Ed is a bright boy, and if he continues to improve as he has done since he left the Institution, he will be a credit to himself and to the Institution.
